

Spectroscopy Society of Pittsburgh (SSP)

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS – 2021-22

J. Kevin Scanlon Award for the Promotion of Science

The Spectroscopy Society of Pittsburgh has established the J. KEVIN SCANLON AWARD FOR THE PROMOTION OF SCIENCE to recognize an educator who has promoted and enhanced science education in the geographic bounds of the SSP through uncompensated efforts above and beyond their normal classroom duties. Two awardees will be selected by the Scanlon Award Committee from the submitted nominations. Each recipient will receive a plaque and a $500 award that they may use toward a science-related resource of their choosing.

To nominate an individual, complete and return this form. Seconding letter(s) of nomination from other individual(s) are recommended. This form may also be used for seconding letters.

Please submit completed forms electronically by February 18, 2022 to:

info@chemistryoutreach.org

Name of Nominee: _____

Nominee's Address: _____

Nominee's Telephone: _____ Nominee's Email: _____

If Nominee is a teacher, please provide the name of School, College or University where the Nominee was/is employed:

Your Name: _____

Your Address: _____

Your Telephone: _____ Your Email: _____

In no more than two pages, describe how your nominee promotes science education.

In particular, during the current pandemic-related settings, this may include

- a noteworthy level of engagement with students,
- availability during “off-hours”,
- providing or recommending additional resources to enrich their students’ educational experience,
- effective use of virtual teaching tools or
- other extraordinary efforts.

